WINNER!

LEGS

It's a lot of landscape and, yeah, waxing ain't painless.

Razors add up, and you need to do it daily or risk a forest of mini trees.

Got a year?

A fab option for girls who don't have sensitive skin. Always test depilatories first.

Totally possible for blondies, especially on thighs.

Shaving. It's annoying to do it constantly, but you'll be smooth daily.

ARMS

Good option for girls with thick, dark hair.

Never, ever shave your arms. The regrowth is a nightmare.

Plucking a couple thick rogue hairs is fine. They happen!

Go for it if you're annoyed by thick arm hair.

Lotsa girls don't mind peach fuzz on their arms.

Deal with it or use a depilatory.

BIKINI LINE

You'll be fuzz free, but yeouch.

Cue the bikini bumps. Make sure your razor is sharp.

Fab for touch-ups or stray strands.

Works well, but apply carefully!

Truth is, most girls get rid of bikini bottom stragglers.

Waxing. It sure doesn't tickle, but it leads to finer regrowth over time.

TUMMY

It's a pretty quick DIY. Just be careful.

No way. Tummy stubble is the worst.

If ya only have a couple hairs, pluck 'em.

Sure, if you're not sensitive and want total smoothness.

Can't really see it? Don't fret over it.

Dealing or waxing is best for that belly.

UNDERARMS

It's awkward to do yourself, so go to a pro.

Mostly, it's a cinch. Use shaving cream, not soap!

Eh, you'll have to crane your neck in a weird way.

A-OK, but avoid deodorant a few hours before and after defuzzing.

Works for girls who don't really have hair there.

Shaving. It takes two seconds.
